23rd October 2025

Dear Parents and Carers,

Happy Half Term! I always seem to be remarking on how busy things have been at school and this half term has certainly been filled with lots of fantastic opportunities for our learners. A quick look at Seesaw or our Facebook pages shows not just the daily opportunities and learning experiences that the children have, but also the enrichment opportunities through clubs, trips, FOSS events and so much more. Huge thanks to my fantastic Shiphay team who always go above and beyond to support the children.

If you look at the important dates on p12, you will see that there are many more opportunities on the horizon during Autumn 2.

We look forward to seeing all the children back at school on Tuesday 4th November after our staff training day. Please note there is no Hub provision on Monday 3rd November as all staff members are needed for training.

Thank you all for your continued support. Have a lovely half term!

Kate Lee (Head of School)

Attendance this year

96.1%

Just above our 96% target. Well done! Let's keep it up.

If your child's attendance is less than 95%, their learning will be affected by their absence.

Our football teams are in desperate need of a new kit - can you help? Do you know anyone who could help?

With the football leagues getting underway after half term, we are in need of new football kits as the previous kits are no longer up to the job. We have applied for some funding but were also hoping that there might be someone in the Shiphay community who might be able to help. Are there any businesses who might like to sponsor our teams? Please let me know klee@rivieraet.co.uk

House Captain Elections

Prospective House Captains at Shiphay have to go through a rigorous process. First the application stage, then the successful candidates present to the school and then, finally, the voting. Well done to everyone who took part and welcome to the House Captains and Vice Captains for 2025/2026. It was a tough and very close competition.

Online Safety - Memes

At The National College, our WakeUpWednesday guides empower and equip parents, carers and educators with the confidence and practical skills to be able to have informed and age-appropriate conversations with children about online safety, mental health and wellbeing, and climate change. Formerly delivered by National Online Safety, these guides now address wider topics and themes. For further guides, hints and tips, please visit nationalcollege.com.

What Parents & Educators Need to Know about MEMES

WHAT ARE THE RISKS?

Mememes may look like simple jokes, but, for many teenagers, they form a shared cultural language. Quickly created and reworked, they spread across social media platforms as images with text or short videos. Nearly eight in ten teenagers share memes (79%, YPulse), making them part of daily life. While memes encourage creativity and participation, they can also spread misinformation or reinforce harmful stereotypes.

SPREADING MISINFORMATION

While memes help to communicate complex topics, they can also spread misinformation. Memes may sometimes include content presenting false facts or biased viewpoints, especially around health, politics, or current events and, as they're designed to be shared quickly, young people may not question their accuracy.

EXPOSURE TO INAPPROPRIATE CONTENT

Mememes are widely circulated, and not always age-appropriate, meaning young people may encounter explicit language, sexual content, or graphic imagery, even without searching for it. As memes spread fast on platforms like Instagram, TikTok, or WhatsApp, it's nearly impossible to filter them completely.

MASKED MESSAGES

Some memes are designed to be confusing or layered with hidden meanings, making them hard for parents, and, sometimes, other young people to understand. Online groups often create these memes to look like inside jokes, but they can sometimes conceal offensive, harmful, or misleading content.

HIDDEN HARMS & LOSING SENSITIVITY

When serious topics like violence, racism, or mental health are turned into jokes, children and young people may become less sensitive to these issues over time. While a funny meme may seem light-hearted, it can carry messages that belittle certain groups, encourage risky behaviour, or mock personal struggles. Repeated exposure through memes can make harmful behaviour seem normal or less important. Over time, this can blur their understanding of what is funny versus what is discriminatory, harmful, or damaging to themselves and others.

PERMANENT DIGITAL FOOTPRINT

Unlike spoken jokes, memes leave a trail. Created or shared memes can resurface later and be misunderstood, even if intended as harmless. Once online, memes may be copied, saved, or spread beyond a young person's control - digital actions can follow them into their future, shaping how they are perceived by peers, teachers, or even employers long after the original meme has been shared.

Advice for Parents & Educators

ENCOURAGE OPEN CONVERSATIONS

Talk regularly with young people and try to understand their online world - discuss what they find funny about the memes, and why. By listening without judgement, you build trust, making it easier for them to come to you if they see something harmful. Open conversations also help children and teens think critically about the messages behind memes rather than simply accepting them at face value.

MODEL HEALTHY BOUNDARIES

Show children and teens positive online behaviours, such as taking breaks from screens, avoiding late-night scrolling, and engaging in offline activities. Setting clear routines around screen time at home can help to reinforce healthy boundaries and reduce the risks of overuse. By modelling balanced technology use, adults can help children and young people see that digital entertainment, including memes, should be just one part of life.

Meet Our Expert

Dr Cristina Moreno-Almeida is a Senior Lecturer in Digital Culture at Queen Mary University of London. She specialises in memes, online networks, and youth culture, examining how digital spaces shape identity and everyday life.

TEACH DIGITAL LITERACY

Help children and young people learn to question where information comes from and whether it's reliable - developing media literacy skills prepares young people to understand and navigate through their future online lives. Show them how memes can sometimes exaggerate or misrepresent facts for laughs, and encourage them to check credible sources when memes claim to present truth.

FOSTER EMPATHY ONLINE

Remind children and young people that memes should never come at someone else's expense. Encourage them to think about how a meme might make another person feel before sharing or creating it. Highlight examples of positive memes that celebrate creativity without hurting others. Fostering empathy, respect, and kindness in digital spaces will help them become more aware of promoting a safer, more supportive online culture.

Mememes are everywhere - quick, witty, and wildly shareable. For many young people they are more than jokes, they're a way to connect, express themselves and interpret the world. But behind the humour, there can be risks. This guide helps adults understand how memes work and why they matter to young people today.

From misinformation to insensitive jokes and permanent digital footprints, this guide highlights the potential pitfalls of meme culture. With practical tips on digital literacy, empathy and open conversations, it empowers parents and educators to help children navigate online humour in a thoughtful, safe, and respectful way.

FOLLOW FRIENDS OF SHIPHAY LEARNING ACADEMY FACEBOOK PAGE FOR REGULAR UPDATES FROM THE FOSS.

foss@rivieraet.co.uk

We have a fabulous FOSS Committee and small core group of volunteers. However, they are all working parents and this means they are already stretched. If we are going to continue to run lovely events like discos, scooter parties, Summer Fairs etc , then we need some more willing pairs of hands.

Without the FOSS team there would be no events and no "extras" for the children as a result of their fundraising. Even an hour at an event can make a big difference. Please contact FOSS today foss@rivieraet.co.uk
